

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS FOR THE 2009 NORTH CAROLINA MIDDLE SCHOOL JOURNAL

The editorial staff of the North Carolina Middle School Journal, a peer-reviewed journal published annually by the North Carolina Middle School Association, is seeking manuscripts for the Fall 2009 issue. Submissions will be accepted through May 15, 2009.

The North Carolina Middle School Journal publishes manuscripts on all topics related to the education of young adolescent learners. We will consider all types of manuscripts, including:

- Research-based instructional techniques for middle level classrooms;
- Viewpoints, analyses, and criticism of current middle level issues;
- Ideas and techniques for strengthening middle level education;
- Reviews of books, videos, or software pertinent to middle level education;
- Research findings, interpretations, or theories related to middle level education in North Carolina;
- Articles that describe strategies for recruiting or training future middle level teachers.

Manuscripts should be prepared according to the style prescribed by the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (5th ed.) and should be typed or computer-generated on standard 8 ½ by 11 paper, with one-inch margins. The typical length for articles is 1,000 – 3,000 words, though shorter manuscripts will be considered.

The author's name, title, and affiliation should appear only on the cover page only of the manuscript.

All submissions must be submitted electronically and should be e-mailed to the address below (Microsoft Word required).

We encourage authors to submit photographs to accompany their manuscripts. Photographs will not be included in the review process. Should the manuscript be accepted, the editor will need copies of permission forms from anyone whose picture appears (for sample permission forms, please contact the editor).

Please feel free to contact the editorial staff for feedback regarding the suitability of an idea for a manuscript, or for comments on early drafts of work. If you would like to serve as a member of the Editorial Board for the North Carolina Middle School Journal, please contact the editor:

Dr. David Strahan, Editor
Western Carolina University
College of Education
Cullowhee, NC 28723
strahan@email.wcu.edu